RICHARDSON, Texas (August 16, 2017) — Service King Collision Repair Centers®, a national leader in high-quality automotive collision repair service, today announced the organization has officially added its 17th Pennsylvania location. The announcement comes as Service King completed a deal to partner with Abernethy's Auto Body located at 834 Gap Newport Pike in Avondale, just 40 miles southwest of Philadelphia. As part of the agreement, Abernethy's Auto Body will begin operating as Service King, effective immediately.

Service King, one of the fastest-growing automotive repair companies in the U.S., first expanded to the state in 2014, and today operates 330 high-quality collision repair centers in 24 states across the U.S.

"We are certainly proud of Service King's continued growth across the greater Philadelphia area," said Matt Robbins, Service King Market Vice President. "It remains our mission to provide customers a best-in-class repair experience. Partnering with premier teams like Abernethy's Auto Body is a crucial component to that success. We look forward to working together under the Service King name and providing customers a superior and safe repair service."

Service King, with more than 40 years of experience, provides all customers a free professional estimate and backs all repair work with a written lifetime warranty honored at any of its locations nationwide.

"The Abernethy Auto Body family is immensely proud to join Service King," said Marie Abernethy. "After 50 years of serving the Chester County community, we look forward to the benefits our teammates and customers will gain from partnering with a growing industry leader. Our customers and insurance partners can expect the same superior service, now backed by the Service King promise."

The new repair center continues Service King's strategic growth initiative while enhancing the company's coverage of the Chester County area.
